

New in 2020

Global Privacy Law Review

Global Privacy Law Review (GPLR) is a ground-breaking international journal that publishes top-quality and peer-reviewed articles, opinions, case notes and literature review on all aspects of privacy, data protection, and cybersecurity topics across the globe.

GPLR's worldwide coverage ensures regular updates and latest discussions on the national, regional and international cross-border trends and legal developments, from the new EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) to the California Consumer Privacy Act, to the Japanese Act on the Protection of Personal Information, and other laws and jurisdictions around the world.

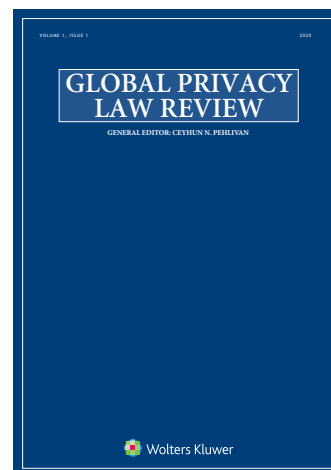

GPLR also aims to provide a lively forum for debate on controversial issues related to these topics worldwide and offer possible solutions to the legal challenges faced by the society and industries in the Information Age.

GPLR is led by a leading expert Editor-in-Chief and a distinguished Editorial Board including top-notch academics and professionals all around the world to ensure the consistency and high-quality of its articles and publications. Every article is carefully assessed and peerreviewed, prior to its publication, by the Editor-in-Chief as well as the experts belonging to the journal's high standing Editorial Board.

The articles are in English and each issue is available in print and online.

The journal brings in-depth examination on the most current issues and will feature in particular:

- Analytical and thought-provoking articles by leading academics and practitioners;
- Insightful case notes from around the world, including decisions by the data protection authorities as well as the national, European, and international courts;
- National and regional reports highlighting key legal, regulatory, and administrative challenges and developments); and
- Reviews of the latest literature

For more information or to pre-subscribe, please contact us.

Phone: +31 (0) 172 641562 • Email: international-sales@wolterskluwer.com

Global Privacy Law Review

ISSN: 2666-3570

Print subscription rate: € 585 / $ 690 / £ 517

Academic online rate: € 525 / $ 620 / £ 464

Global Privacy Law Review will publish its first three issues in 2020:

First issue expected in February - "New and emerging technologies"

Second issue expected in June - "GDPR 2 year anniversary"

Third issue expected in October - "Japan"

Table of Contents first issue:

1. Foreword from the General Editor
2. Leonardo Cervera-Navas, Director at European Data Protection Supervisor, "In memoriam: Giovanni Buttarelli"
3. Judge Carlota Cuatrecasas, "Legal challenges of Artificial Intelligence"
4. Prof. Fumio Shimo, "The composite relationship and law of AI, IoT and autonomous robot"
5. Dr. Leyla Keser and Ayça Atabey, "Ad-TV and consent sequencing"
6. Dr. Thiago Luís Sombra, "Brazilian Data Protection Law: what comes next?"
7. Adj. Prof. Ceyhun Necati Pehlivan and Inés Isidro, "Blockchain and Data Protection, a compatible couple?"
8. Diego Fernández, "Where is digital privacy going?"
9. Bartolomé Martín, Case note on Google v CNIL
10. "International privacy news", Et al.

GPLR accepts analytical, practical and thought-provoking articles from leading professionals and researchers across the globe on a wide range of governance, risk management and control, and regulatory compliance issues related to privacy, data protection and cybersecurity.

As a result, GPLR will be an essential source of information and a worthy companion to all privacy professionals and practitioners, lawyers, judges, policymakers, data protection authorities, Data Protection Officers, multinational organisations, international law firms, professional bodies and associations, academics, researchers, universities, libraries, and public sector/Government.

Editor-in-Chief

Ceyhun Necati Pehlivan
IE Law School, Linklaters

For more information or to pre-subscribe, please contact us.

Phone: +31 (0) 172 641562 • Email: international-sales@wolterskluwer.com